Festival 2014 Celebrations

The Festival Committee is gearing up for the big 60th Festival celebration party on 26 July. The Incinerator will swing with the big crowds expected. We believe there are still some members and friends who are intending to come along but who have not yet told anyone. It is ESSENTIAL that we know who is coming – how else can we cater for you? So, if you don't want to miss out on the food and the fun, contact Jan Paterson immediately.

Remember that as well as delicious food and beverages, there will be an audio-visual programme – A Piece of History ... Wonderful Culture, Wrapped Up in a Big Warm Welcome – featuring the 60 years of Festivals – the longest running of the type in Australia. A copy will be included in the ticket price.

For those unable to attend, copies will be available later at $10.

Cocktail Party

On Saturday 19 July Ipswich City Council and Ipswich Little Theatre will be jointly hosting a Cocktail Party in the Ipswich Art Gallery. This venue was originally the Town Hall where the first 15 Festivals were held and where ILT performed from 1946 to 1969.

The function will recognise the contribution made to our Festivals over the many years. Invitees include Civic dignitaries, past and present presidents, festival directors, festival secretaries, festival workers, sponsors, Life Members, committee members and regular audience members. It will be an evening of nostalgic review of this facet of our history – the first and longest running drama festival in Queensland

We are very grateful to the Council for their generous contribution.

Preparations for Festival

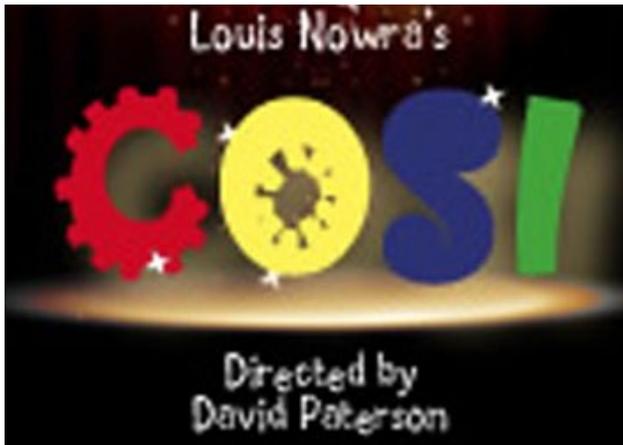

There is obviously a lot to do to prepare the Incinerator for the festivities on 26 July and for the Festival itself.

The preparatory working bee will be held on Sunday 20 July from 10:30 am. The stage area and the grounds have to be set up and assistance from volunteers would be much appreciated.

As a special bonus, the workers will be provided with one of Ann Collyer's wonderful luncheons.

The final preparations – decorations, etc. – will be done on Friday 8 August. And, of course, we need lots of assistance in manning the Festival itself and lots of audience members.

Festival Director Suzanne Matulich is counting on you.

Bookings for our fourth major season, Cosi, open on Monday 21 July.

When Lewis, a young director, takes on the task of producing a play with the patients of an insane asylum, his life is touched by these extraordinary people. As his operatic production (Cosi Fan Tutti) lurches forward, we learn that when chasing your dreams it helps to be a little crazy.

One of the most successful Australian plays in recent decades, Cosi is a poignant look at life through the eyes of insane asylum patients, while also being an hilarious take on the madness of creativity and the chaotic terror of getting up there and making a fool of yourself.

An hilarious and touching play about madness, illusion, sanity ... and theatre!

Rated M: contains coarse language and sexual references.

Director David Paterson and Assistant Director David Austin report that rehearsals are in full swing.

PLEASE NOTE THAT COSI PERFORMANCES WILL BEGIN AT 7:30 pm

Daytime Theatre Troupe

Our Adjudicator—Arthur Frame

Arthur Frame began his acting career with Ipswich Little Theatre in 1967. He adjudicated our 30th one act play festival in 1984 and returns to adjudicate our 60th Festival.

Arthur is currently the CEO/Artistic Director of Queensland Arts Council (now trading as Artslink Queensland). His first involvement with Queensland Arts Council was in 1976, when they toured his production of Equus state-wide.

After 16 years working in Theatre in Queensland, interstate and internationally, as a Director, Executive Production Manager, published playwright and actor, he joined the Queensland Arts Council Education Program as Director in 1986. He developed and managed this program for 11 years. During this period, almost eight million primary and secondary students attended performances toured state-wide through the Schools Program. He left the company to join Arts Queensland as Deputy Director in January 1998 but in 1999, he returned to Queensland Arts Council as Artistic Director and Chief Executive Officer — a role which he has held for 14 years.

Arthur received the Centenary of Federation Medal for his distinguished contribution to the arts in 2001 and was awarded an AM in 2008. In 2012, he was made a Life Member of Queensland Arts Council.
