Sin, Sex & the CIA

By Michael & Susan Parker

Directed by Doug Moses & Sheryl Roche

Our first major production of 2014 opens on 5 March. Bookings are pleasing, but there are still vacancies so make sure you don't miss out.

Here is a taste of what you will see!

Sin, Sex and the CIA is set in a log cabin which has provided a very real challenge for set painter Kelly Badgett. She has toiled away for hours—several nights to 1 or 2 am to produce the outstanding result you can see in the photographs. Directors Doug and Sheryl are thrilled with the result and they (and everybody else) are very grateful.

Kelly works on the paint counter at Bunnings, so we were also able to take advantage of her expertise with mixing of experimental colours for the kitchen and the Incinerator doors. And what's more, when the rep from Dulux heard of her set painting she offered to provide $200 worth of paint in return for the opportunity to take a photo of the set and cast for inclusion in the Dulux magazine — which they were only too happy to provide. Then the Taubmans rep upped the ante and donated $400 worth of paint!

So much done for so many by so few

Our long planned working bee coincided with a 38<sup>o</sup> Ipswich day. However, the necessity to have our Theatre ready for the 2014 season drove those stalwarts who attended to ignore the trying conditions. President David pulled rank and manned the gurney – the coolest job – to great effect; Suzanne re-potted our depleted plants helped by Keith; Robyn F cleaned all the seats; Jim and Di recoated all the forms; Ann, Desley, Sheryl and Jane cleaned every kitchen surface; Jan, Karen (and Karen's son, Max) cleared the area behind the Jean Pratt Building and created a new path; Di (Cook) mowed; Col, Ian, Phil and Ron did the last of the jobs inside the Incinerator building and Helen ticked off each task from a long list. And, yes, we all did much more.

Helping with all of this was local Member of Parliament – Ian Berry: the only person on the huge list of Member/Subscribers to respond to the last minute reminder email. Thank you so much, Ian.

While there were very good reasons why some of our faithful were not there, general satisfaction in our achievements was certainly tempered with disappointment that more of our members fail to accept that being involved is not just the fun and satisfaction of treading the boards.

Future Planning - but what is our future?

A Message to Young Members

In the words of a "middle-aged" member – "Wow, we have a new auditorium! It looks fabulous!" The general refurbishment and new lighting, at no small cost, has been successful beyond even Building Committee's dreams. Finally, we have an attractive well-lit space with purpose-designed lighting which will surely eliminate all minor accidents and provide a safe and comfortable theatre for patrons.

Where to now? Before we proceed with the huge project of providing cover for our courtyard, there needs to be some careful thought. The average age of the attendees at the working bee was 62. Where is our succession plan?

The proposed project will use all our existing funds and tie us to a debt for several years. Can we undertake this ultimate dream without the reassurance that our "young" members will eventually rise to the challenge? "Older" members can recall life without our own Theatre, or at least a well-equipped one. We know the value of our heritage building. We appreciate the space of the Jean Pratt Building. And, we know we are the envy of other amateur theatre groups in the area. But, we also know that we arrived at this situation by blood, sweat and tears and when the journey began the average age at a working bee was probably 26 – not 62.

This is not meant as a complaint – but a serious message. Young members, we need your support. We need your youthfulness and energy. We need the knowledge that you appreciate what we have and care enough to work, and sometimes fight, to retain it.

We need to see you working in the kitchen, attending working bees and generally acknowledging that our current workforce is aging and needs a helping hand or their efforts will have been in vain. We need to know that you are with ILT for the long haul and not just the good parts. And, most of all, we need to know that embarking on another major project is worthwhile.

Helen Pullar – Chair of Building Committee

Council Repairs to Incinerator

As part of the Conservation Plan for the Incinerator, Ipswich City Council has undertaken to carry out work. Firstly, our fire escape has been found to be non-compliant and the Council has engaged H&G Contractors to demolish the structure and replace it with a new one. A complication was the need to preserve the steep concrete stairs which are part of the heritage fabric of the building.

Work commenced on Monday 10 February. The old fire escape was cut loose from the building and on Thursday it was removed completely. The new fire escape will be installed and all the work completed by 28 February – just in time for Opening Night. In the meantime the stage door and dressing room doors are strictly out of bounds.

A second task being undertaken by H&G on behalf of the Council is the re-pointing of parts of the brickwork to prevent (or at least reduce) rainwater entering the building. Up until now, rainwater has been able to pool on the protruding ornamental purple bricks from where it percolates through the walls. Re-pointing will provide a seal. To gain access, a large cherry-picker has been brought on site. It may not be possible for this to reach the brickwork on the courtyard side so it may be necessary to temporarily remove some of the pergola cover and install scaffolding.

Equipment on site at the commencement of the job

The committee would like to thank the cast and crew of Sin, Sex and the CIA for their forbearance during all the work going on around them, putting up with obstacles and lack of lights etc. and now reduced access. Hopefully, all will be clear by opening night.

Below: Re-pointing of the brickwork in progress.

The doomed fire escape and the old concrete stairs

Many thanks to the Council, and in particular to their Dale Hubner who is managing the project so obligingly. The Council arborist has also agreed to remove a number of trees on site that are posing a slight threat to safety. Although these are self-seeded, it was still necessary to get heritage approval to remove them.

Festival 2014

The Committee responsible for this year's celebration of 60 years of festivals is making good progress with formulating plans. More news of the celebrations will be published as it becomes available.

An important planning meeting for the actual Festival Weekend will be held on Tuesday 25 February at 7.00pm in the Jean Pratt Building.

Director Suzanne is hoping for a good attendance and lots of offers of help.

Congratulations, Jan

Long-term member Jan Paterson's contribution to culture in Ipswich was recognised in the city's Australia Day Awards where she won the Cultural Award and a City of Ipswich Medallion.

Jan is well known in our ranks as a talented actress and director of numerous full-length and one act plays. She was co-founder of our Daytime Theatre Troupe and created S-Troupe. She has been a most efficient Treasurer for many years and holds many other positions. She has been a tireless worker for ILT for a long time.

Needless to say, she is a Life Member.
